FRATERNITE.

BY ROSE TERRY.

Cræsus, gilt martyr of a bank,
Barred round with ingots yellow,
The poet whom you do not thank,
Is not a "wretched fellow!"
The garret of his dreaming sleep,
Is tapestried with splendor;
Whose glitter makes no angels weep,
His heart is true and tender.

Poet, the Dives you despise,
Has pleasure in his money!
Dear butterfly, some beauty lies
To bees in making honey!
The gold and jewels of your flowers,
He copies in his treasure;
Must all your brother's happy hours,
Be meted with your measure?

Fair woman, whose averted eyes,
Cast scorn on shame's poor daughter,
The soul whose kindred yours denies,
Was limpid once as water!
Who kept thee from the precipice,
Where sin with love-lips kissed her?
Through Him who granted Mary's peace,
Pray for thy wretched sister!

And thou, on earth most desolate,
Blame not the passer by thee,
Whose veiled eyes droop not out of hate,
Whose thoughts no love deny thee!
If custom-kept, she walks apart,
Her pity grows the stronger;
And louder echo through her heart,
His words,—"Go, sin no longer!"

If there are mountains in the world,
Are there not also valleys!
Where Love's blue standard swings unfurl'd,
There every true heart rallies.
Ranked in one hope, the difference dies,
That keeps us from each other,
And underneath millennial skies,
Each man becomes a brother.

ADDRESS OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE ROOMS,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9, 1867.

To the Democracy of Pennsylvania:

Victory crowns your efforts and Pennsylvania is redeemed.

The Keystone proclaims her hatred of despotism, her fealty to the law, her fidelity to the Constitution.

You have elected Judge Sharswood, a representative man, to the Supreme Bench; reversed the majority of last year, and added to the number of your Senators and members of the House of Representatives.

New York and New Jersey will follow where you have led, and the future is your own if you will grasp it.

To your untiring efforts in the work of organization, is this result mainly due, and to you belongs the honor of the triumph.

New honors await you, new labors are before you.

You have won the fight for position, let us now prepare for the great battle of the coming year.

Pledging ourselves to the maintenance of a government of law for the entire Republic, to the preservation of the supremacy of our own race, to the developement of our immense resources, to the reform of abuses, corruption and extravagance, and through these to the relief of the tax payer, and the payment of the public debt, let us move resolutely forward.

By order of the Democratic State Committee. WILLIAM A. WALLACE, Chairman.

A Mournful View of the Situation.

The Boston Advertiser takes the following mournful view of the situation:

Pensylvania and Ohio, States which have seemed to be securely Republican, and which we carried last fall by aggregate majorities of nearly 60,000, have seen those majorities disappear, and we lose the one, while the other is saved at best by a close contest, which leaves their Legislature still in doubt.—In Iowa we have also largely reduced majorities. If, morever, the common impression as to the influence of the October elections does not prove to be erroneous, and still more, if the causes which have produced these misfortunes do not suddenly cease to operate, we may expect to see New York imperilled, if not lost, at the next month's election.

* * * * *

It adds not a little to the mortification with which this result must be received, that our heavy loss in Ohio is so plainly due in large part to the proposed amendment to the State Constitution, introducing impartial suffrage. Here, in Massachusetts, our record is clear upon this point, and what we have undertaken to prescribe for others has had its place for years upon our own statute-book. But it is little less than humiliating to have this public demonstration, that after such a period of awakening as the nation has now had, a great State like Ohio, which is supposed to be well advanced in its political ideas, and which has not been thought to hold any doubtful position as regards the reconstruction of the South, should thus draw back, as did Connecticut before her, from the needed step in amendment of her own institutions.

A "DISTRESSED MOTHER" writes to the Allentown (Pa.) Democrat for advice, which she gets, thusly: "The only way to cure your son staying out 'late o' nights' is to break his legs, or else get the 'calico' he runs after to do your house work."

—The deaths from yellow fever at New Orleans from the week ending on the 13th of July, to September 28, were one thousand six hundred and ninety-six. The fever has subsided at Galveston, and the streets are filled with convalescents.

MRS. LINCOLN'S WARDROBE FOR SALE.

Full Explanation of the Whole Matter --Important Letter from Mrs. Lincoln --Her Complaints of the Ingratitude of Republican Office-Seekers.

(From a New York Paper.)

The announcement has already been made in these columns that Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, widow of the late President, was compelled to dispose of some of her personal effects in order to eke out the slender income which remained to her after the settlement of her husband's estate, and that she was, in fact, in this city under the assumed name of Mrs. Clarke, for the purpose of superintending the sale of her property. As Mrs. Lincoln is no longer anxious to withhold from the public the facts in the case, there can be no impropriety in imparting further information upon the subject, as obtained from the lady herself.

THE PROPERTY LEFT BY MR. LINCOLN.

Upon the death of Mr. Lincoln an effort was made to appropriate for his wife and family the sum he would have received from the United States had he lived to have finished his second term of office, to wit: $100,000; but it resulted in appropriating but $25,000, the amount of one year's salary as President. Of this sum, $3,000 were required to discharge certain standing obligations, leaving about $22,000, which, with the house and lot in Springfield, Illinois, owned by Mr. Lincoln previous to his election to the Presidency in 1860, was all the property which fell to Mrs. Lincoln. Her present income, she states, is but $1,700 a year, of which $300 comes from her old house in Springfield. It appears from this that Mr. Lincoln not only saved no money while he occupied the White House, but really lived beyond his income, which, in connection with the natural reluctance of his widow to return to the simple style of living to which she had been used before her residence in Washington, has compelled her to part with some of her personal effects at the present time.

LETTER FROM MRS. LINCOLN.

Appended are several letters written by Mrs. Lincoln in relation to this most unpleasant business, the contents of which will surprise the public. The first, in order of their date, appeared to be the following:

CHICAGO, September 1, 1867.

"MR. BRADY: A notice in a New York paper having attracted my attention, that you sold articles of value on commission, prompts me to write you. The articles I am sending you to dispose of were gifts of dear friends, which only urgent necessity compels me to part with, and I am especially anxiously that they shall not be sacrificed. The circumstances are peculiar and painfully embarrassing; therefore, I hope you will endeavor to realize as much as possible for them. Hoping soon to hear from you, I remain, very respectfully yours,"

"MRS. A. LINCOLN."

THE ARTICLES FORWARDED TO NEW-YORK.

The next letter, bearing the same date as the preceding, is as follows:

CHICAGO, SEPTEMBER 1, 1867.

"Mr. Brady, Commission Broker, 609 Broadway, New York:

"I have this day sent to you personal property which I am compelled to part with, and which you will find of considerable value. The articles consist of four camel's hair shawls, lace dress and shawls, a parasol cover, a diamond ring, two dress patterns, some furs, &c. Please have them appraised, and confer by letter with me.—

Very respectfully,
Mrs. A. LINCOLN."

THE ARTICLES TO BE SOLD.

In this connetion is given an inventory of the articles sent to Mr. Brady, at 609 Broadway, by Mrs. Lincoln, with the valuation affixed to each:

Also, many other articles, including diamonds, rings, &c., &c.

MRS. LINCOLN'S OPINION OF REPUBLICANS.

A significant feature of the subsequent letter and memoranda, is the feeling entertained by Mr. Lincoln towards leading Republicans. She complains bitterly that men who besought her influence to secure their official positions, and were profuse with promises if she would gratify their wishes, now give her the cold shoulder. Certain persons of that party, such as Thurlow Weed, Henry J. Raymol, Wm. H. Seward, and others, she is particularly severe against, and that it was through their influence that the plan proposed by the Tribune to raise a fund for her by the voluntary subscription of the people was thwarted. At this point the following memorandum, the original being in Mrs. Linc'n's handwriting, is given:

The question was asked Mrs. Lincoln what her feelings were in regard to the Republican party in consideration of the unkindness and ingratitude displayed by them in depriving her of almost all means of support; the reply was: "I could not relinquish my attachment for the party to which my husband belonged, and in whose cause his precious life was sacrificed notwithstanding it is composed of such men as Weed, Raymond, and Seward, who nominally belong to it, and who, to accomplish their purposes, would drag it down to the lowest depth of degradation. The late President broughly tested these men, and had become fully aware, before his death, of their treachery and falseness."

MRS. LINCOLN UNDER AN ASSUMED NAME.

As the negotiations with Mr. Brady proceeded, Mrs. Lincoln deemed it best that her name should appear, the reasons for which are given in the following extract from a letter writen by her.

[Extract of a letter from Mrs. Lincoln]

"Through the ingratitude of the Republicans towards the memory of the late lamented President, the family of their chief have been left to suffer want and destitution. Therefore it is natural to suppose that when it became imperatively necessary for Mrs Lincoln, the honored and beloved wife of the late President, to dispose of apparel and jewelry to enable her to meet the common necessities of life, it was certainly in better taste that Mrs. Clarke, rather than Mrs. Lincoln, should appear in the proceeding. Although in overwhelming sorrow she was by an ungrateful Republican party deprived of her rightful maintenance, they should appreciate her delicacy in desiring to keep her true name and their own ignominy from being known in the world."

SUBSEQUENT LETTERS.

The next letter presents more in detail the reasons for her actions in this sad matter, at the same time expresses her regret that the ingratitude of Republicans may do injury to the Republican party!

CHICAGO, September 22, 1867.

W. H. BRADY ESQ.—You write me that reporters are after you concerning my goods deposited with you—which in consideration of my urgent wants, I assure you I am compelled to relinquish—and also that there is a fear that these newsmen will seize upon the painful circumstances of your having these articles placed in your hands to injure the Republican party politically. In the cause of this party and for universal freedom, my beloved husband's precious life was sacrificed, nor for the world would I do anything to injure the cause. My heart is ever anxious for its success, notwithstanding the very men for whom my noble husband did so much, unhesitatingly deprived me of all means of support and left me in a pitiless condition. The necessities of life are upon me, urgent and imperative, and I am scarcely removed from want—so different from the lot my loving and devoted husband would have assigned me—and I find myself left to struggle for myself. I am compelled to pursue the only course left me—immediately within the next month to sell these goods, and if not wholly disposed of by Wednesday, October 30th, on that day please sell them at auction, after advertising very largely that they are my goods.

Very respectively,
"MRS. A. LINCOLN".

STILL FURTHER EXPLANATION.

The last letter of which mention will be made at this time, is the following:

[Private.]
"September 25.

"W. H. Brady, Esq.:

"I have reflected upon your remarks, and have concluded to leave everything to your good judgment and excellent sense. My great, great sorrow and loss have made me painfully sensitive; but as my feelings and pecuniary comfort were never regarded or even recognized in the midst of my overwhelming bereavement, now that I am pressed in a most startling manner for means of subsistence, I do not know why I should shrink from an opportunity of improving my trying position. Being assured that all you do will be appropriately executed, and in a manner that will not startle me very greatly and excite as little comment as possible, again I shall leave all in your hands. I am passing through a very painful ordeal, which the country, in remembrance of my noble and elevated husband, should have spared me. I remain, with great respect,

very truly
MRS. LINCOLN."

"P. S.—As you mention that my goods have been valued at $24,000, I will be willing to make a reduction of $8,000, and relinquish them for $16,000 in five-twenties—nothing less. If this is not accomplished, I will continue to advertise largely until every article is sold. I must have means to live, at least in medium comfortable state.

MRS. L."

Party Reconstruction.

During the war there was a "Union Party." Its platform was "the Union, the whole Union, and nothing but the Union." The "boys in blue" fought upon this platform. The war over, the radical negro influence commenced a reconstruction of the platform of the party and succeeded in disorganizing the party by taking from the platform the Union plank and putting in its place negro political equality. Since then the platform has been going down—down—until public opinion has determined to completely crush it. The black thing is already a wreck, and by the time the November elections are over the radical platform will be among the things that once had an existence.

What next? Will the leaders persist in the wrong—persist in pursuing a course which must continue to drive the Union men of the war to the support of the old Democratic organization?—or will they open the door to all loyal men opposed to negro political equality and the Democratic organization and its leaders? We have no doubt the same leaders who controlled the Democratic party during the war will have a controlling influence in that party should it again get into power, but we cannot see that any measures they would propose would be more destructive of the Union, the happiness and prosperity of our people, than the measures which have and may be forced upon the country by the radicals who have thus far been too successful in controlling the party organization opposed to the Democratic party.—Huntingdon Globe.

NAPOLEON THE SECOND.

In 1840, by permission of the British Government, and solicitation of King Louis Phillippe, suggested by M. Thiers, the mortal remains of the first Napoleon were transferred from the rocky-prison isle of St Helena to a French frigate, La Bella Poul, commanded by the Prince de Joinville.—A week before Christmas, 1840, these remains were deposited, with remarkable funeral pomp, in the shape of the Hotel des Invalide, in Paris. And thus, nearly twenty years after this great exile's death, was realized his last wish, conveyed in the testamentary document, which England has also given to France: "It is my wish that my ashes may repose on the banks of the Seine, in the midst of the French people, whom I loved so well."

Louis Napoleon reigns in France under the title of "Napoleon the Third," and some persons have wondered, or affected to wonder, why, being only the second of his family upon the throne of France, he calls himself the third. The case is easy of solution. When Charles II came back to London, on the 29th May, 1660, he at once began to date his public documents, as then issued, "in the twelfth year of our reign," though it was only the first. His father had been executed in front of his palace at Whitehall, in January, 1649, and there had been a Republican Commonwealth in England from that date until May, 1660, when Charles Stuart came back. In like manner, on the restoration of the Bourbons, in 1824, the Count de Provence, succeeding Louis XVI, his brother, who was guillotined in January, 1793, took the title of Louis the Eighteenth, on the pretence that the Dauphin then succeeded his father as Louis the Seventeenth and from that period until his death, a prisoner in the Temple, in June, 1795, really was a monarch by right, if not by fact. Louis XVIII, ignoring the republic and the empire as much as if they had never been heard of, commenced in 1814, by declaring in all official documents that they were executed "in the twentieth year of our reign." As for Napoleon III, he followed the above examples, took it for granted that his uncle's abdication in 1815, when he proclaimed his son "under the title of Napoleon the Second, Emperor of the French," actually made him Emperor, though the poor child was then at Vienna, never returned to Paris, and died in Austria at the age of twenty-one.

It is understood that, at the recent meeting at Salzburg, of the French and Austrian Embassadors, Napoleon requested Francis Joseph to give him the ashes of Napoleon II, that they might be interred in his native France, and and that this request has been acceded to. The coffin is to be removed from the Imperial burial place of the Imperial line of Hapsburg, and deposited, it is said, in the vaults of the Abbey of St. Denis, near Paris, the ancient burial ground of the Borubon kings of France. When the ashes of the great Napoleon were placed in their final resting place, "by the banks of the Seine," Louis Phillippe tried to make political capital out of it, but cannot be said to have succeeded. Neither will the funeral of the titular Napoleon II, cause any great emotion in Paris, come when it may. Napoleon's marriage with Maria Louisa, an Austrian Princess, to effect which the much loved empress Josephine had to be divorced, caused great dissatisfaction in Paris. He wanted an heir, but France would have been better pleased if he had married the daughter of one of his own soldiers, rather than seek to ally himself with such a line as that of Hapsburg. Little Napoleon was born in Paris, in March, 1811, and the title of "King of Rome" was immediately conferred upon him. He was only three years old when his mother was compelled to fly with him from Paris, to which neither of them ever returned. On Napoleon's reappearance from Elba, he used all means in his power to induce Marie Louisa to rejoin him at Paris, with their son, but she refused. Even after the abdication, in 1815, there was a discussion in political circles respecting the rights of Napoleon II, but Fouche and Wellington turned the scale by declaring for the second restoration of the hated Bourbons. The future life of the ex King of Rome was spent at Scœnbrun, near Vienna, where he was educated in a manner to stifle hope and ambition. His mother was made grand duchess of Parma, but her only son, once chief of the French Empire, was expressly precluded from succeeding her on that petty throne. He was created Duke de Reichstadt, and raised to the rank of an Austrian prince. He received a military education, but all mention of his father was prohibited. At last when he was twenty years old, he met Marshal Marmont, one of his father's old generals, and from him learned more about his father than he had ever heard before. The revolution of 1839, raised a hope among the Bonapartists that France would remember and recall the dead emperor's son, but the craft of Louis Phillippe prevailed and prevented this. Finally he yielded to the insidious disease of consumption, dying on the 22d of July, 1832, the very day on which, eleven years before, he had been informed of his father's death. His body rests in the family vault, of the Hapsburg line, in Vienna, and his heart was deposited in the Cathedral and his intestines in the Church of the Augustines.

Concerning one who thus lived and died unfortunate and nominally elevated but really obscure it will be difficult to raise anything like a popular enthusiasm in Paris. There may be a magnificent funeral show, which will delight the Parisians; but the return of the mortal remains of this poor lad to his native city will not otherwise cause any but the most temporary sensation.—Washington Chronicle.

A RECEIPT WORTH ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.—The Ohio Cultivator says, take one pound of sal soda and a half pound of unslacked lime, put them in a gallon of water and boil twenty minutes, let it stand till cool, then drain off, and put in a small jug or jar; soak your dirty clothes over night or until they are wet through, then wring them out and rub on plenty of soap, and in one boiler of clothes well covered with water, add one teacupful of washing fluid; boil half an hour briskly, then wash them thoroughly through one suds, rinse, and your old clothes will look better than the old way of washing twice before boiling. This is an invaluable receipt, and I want every poor tired woman to try it. I think with a patent washtub to do the little rubbing, a washerwoman might take the old Bible and compose herself on a lounge and let the washing do itself.

—Paris letter writers think there is a good time coming in the meat market, a hope that is echoed by consumers everywhere. One of these writers ventures the prediction that in consequence of a new and simple method of preventing taint, fresh meat will before long be sold every where at five cents a pound; and he bases his calculation on the fact that there are in the provinces of La Plata, South America, 27,000,000 cattle, and 40,000,000 sheep, and in Australia 180,000,000 cattle, and 300,000,000 sheep, all of which only need sufficient means of preservation and transportation to be made available for supplying the world with meat.

—The London underground railroad has carried in six months' time over 12,000,000 passengers, or about three times the population of London. The actual number transported over the line since its opening in January, 1863, is about 70,000,000. The line is only three and three quarters miles long; and was constructed at an enormous cost, but makes annual returns in dividends of from twelve to fifteen per cent.

—The Greenfield Church, in the Presbytery of Chillicothe, Ohio, having suspended a member for joining the masonic order, an appeal was taken to the Presbytery. This body, by a vote of fifteen to ten, sustained the appeal, and restored the party appealing to the communion of the church.

—A shrewd villain in Nashua, on Thursday, walked deliberately up to a store window and broke in a pane of French glass, and when asked to pay for it, as deliberately drew out a $100 bill, which the storekeeper took, giving him $70 in change. The bill proved to be a counterfeit.

—A St. Louis beggar who goes about on crutches, is discovered to own property in New York worth $65,000. When his labor of soliciting alms from the public for the day, is over, he repairs to a very comfortable tenement, where he lives in spacious apartments, and indulges in fine wines and other luxuries.

—The aggregate production of gold in the world for eighteen years past, is $3,341,500,000, of which the Pacific States and Territories yielded nearly one third, while Australia and New Zealand produced nearly one fourth.

—The hot corn business must be a profitable one, for in New York and Brooklyn, during the past season, 1,700 persons have been engaged in selling it about the streets, whilst in Philadelphia from 500 to 600 persons were engaged in the same trade.

—Of all the coal produced in the United States, Pennsylvania furnishes seventy-three and three and three-quarters per cent. Her mines are exhaustless and their product is annually increasing.

—The negro vote in Alabama reaches one hundred thousand—the white vote about fifty thousand. The vote cast is considerably in excess of a majority of the votes registered, so a convention will assemble in that State.

—There is a female brass band in Decatur, Illinois.

—The yellow fever at the Dry Tortugas is abating.

THE RADICAL PRESIDENTIAL IMBROGLIO.

The late elections have had the effect to frighten the political tricksters in the "Republican" party, into the abandonment of all intention to nominate an ultra man as their candidate for President. This effect was foreseen by the friends of Gen. Grant, and hence such "loyal" sheets as the N. Y. Herald, turned their batteries upon their late Radical allies and assisted in producing the defeat of the "Republican" party. The Herald, in the interest of Grant, and all the General's trustworthy friends in the "Republican" party, desired, and connived at, the success of the Democracy. Their reason for so doing, was, that in the event of a Radical defeat, the trimmers and dough-faces in their party, could be influenced by the cry, "Grant is the only man that can save us!" Already has this become the watch-word of the class of "Republican" politicians to which we have just referred. They declare openly everywhere, that the late elections have shown that Grant is the only man who can be elected by the "Republican" party. But there is another class, the brain and the soul of the party, who are vehemently opposed to Grant, and who say that his nomination will fall as dead as that of Scott in 1852. At the head of this wing stands Horace Greeley, who hurls his thunderbolts at the Grant men from the tripod of the Tribune. In a recent editorial, he said that if a man of Grant's political status is to be elected to the Presidency, the Democrats, and not the "Republicans," must do it. En passant, we would say that the Democrats have not a whit more admiration for a nondescript in politics, than the philosopher of the Tribune. But we opine that Mr. Greely "sees farther into the millstone" than he would have us think he does. The motive which impels his opposition to Grant, is his desire that the election of the next President be thrown into the House of Representatives, which is already chosen, and which is so Radical in its composition that Chase, Wade, or even Phillips, might be successful. In order to defeat an election by the people, if Grant be nominated, Greeley and co., will, in all probability, set up a third candidate. This third candidate would get the votes of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, and probably Missouri, about fifty electoral votes, which would, in all likelihood, defeat a choice by the people. Such is, without doubt, the game of the Radical leaders. They will either defeat the nomination of Grant, or endeavor to throw the election into the House of Representatives.

Meanwhile, the Democrats are quietly observing the manœuvres of the foe. Grant has been coquetting with them, also, and they understand him perfectly. They know that he has no political opinions, and that every time he opens his mouth he puts his foot in it. They know, too, that he wants to be President, that he is as ambitious as Julius Cesar ever was, and that he is just now profoundly engaged in the study of the philosophy of political tides and currents. As for their own candidate, they know that he will be a high-toned statesman, a true patriot, and above all, a man who is not afraid to avow his opinions.

To sum up, then, the trimmers and tricksters in the Radical party, tell us that "Grant is the only man that can save them." On the other hand Greely and his confrers say that Grant shall not be elected by the Radical party. From which premises, we Democrats draw the conclusion that the Radical party is in a dilemma, either horn of which will gore it to death in 1868.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, grand-son of Ex-President J. Q. Adams, is the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. He was formerly a "Republican," and though the descendant of a Federalist, the centralizing, usurping policy of the Radical party, has proved too much even for an Adams. In his letter of acceptance, he recognizes the wholesomeness of Democratic principles, and gives his fellow New Englanders a broad hint that if they do not cease their warfare upon the rights of the States, they will wake up some fine morning, to the loss of their preponderance in the U. S. Senate. It is said that the reaction in politics which has manifested itself in the October elections, will crop out even in Massachusetts. Of course, Mr. Adams cannot be elected, but his opponent will scarcely have 60,000 majority.

A TEXT for some of the Radical preachers who prowl about the country: "Love thy neighbor as thyself!"

THE GOLDEN RULE.

The Radicals of the North, reject Negro suffrage when it is attempted to establish it in their midst, as witness Ohio. At the same time they all sustain the action of Congress in forcing it upon the District of Columbia and in making it the great feature in the "reconstruction" of the South. They consider it a very good thing for other people, but, as for themselves, they will have none of it. They are the friends par excellence of the black man, but they like him best where they can use him most successfully to "rake their chestnuts out of the fire." And yet these political Pharisees make great pretensions to reform in morals, and self-righteously proclaim that they possess "all the decency" and all the "intelligence" in the land! Did they ever hear of that grand precept, "Do unto others, as you would have others do unto you?" If they are the paragons of Christians they would have us believe they are, why do they scout this golden rule? Why do they undertake to force down the throats of their neighbors, the medicine they will not swallow, themselves?—Why do they insist that the Southern people shall accept Negro suffrage when they themselves reject it with contempt and indignation? For the sake of consistency, for the sake of the honor, the intelligence and the Christian character of the Northern people, let us hear no more about forcing upon the Southern people, what we of the North have spurned to accept for ourselves.

THE "Reconstruction" policy of Congress has been condemned by the people. The late elections decided that issue. Will Congress obey the voice of the majority? Will they abandon their revolutionary and anarchical measures and return within the pale of the constitution? If they will not take the popular hint to retrace their steps, they must look out for a less mild corrective next time. If they persist in their "Reconstruction" tyranny, the majorities against them in the Middle and Western States, will not be counted by hundreds, but by hundreds of thousands. The verdict of the people must be obeyed.

THE next legislature will stand politically divided as follows: HOUSE—Democrats, 46, Radicals, 54; SENATE, Democrats, 14, Radicals 19. Radical majority on joint ballot, 13. Last year the House stood 38 Democrats, to 62 Radicals, and the Senate, 12 Democrats to 21 Radicals. Majority on joint ballot, last year, 33. Radical loss since last year, 20.

THE Democrats of the Centre, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata and Perry senatorial Districts, have covered themselves with glory. This district was made especially to suit certain Radical pets, and was represented in the last Senate, by Messrs. Hall and Haines, Radicals. At the late election Messrs. Shugert and McIntire, the Democratic candidates, were chosen by handsome majorities. Good-bye, Gerrymander!

THE people of Centre county have done themselves honor in the election of our friend, P. Gray Meek, Esq., of the Bellefonte Watchman, to the House of Representatives. Mr. Meek is a true man, one who proved his fidelity to the Democratic cause in the midst of trials and presecution. It does our heart good to note the triumph of so excellent a man and so pure and unswerving a Democrat.

OLD WESTMORELAND did nobly at the late election. She rolled up a Democratic majority of 1,433, and helped to "lay out" Kimmell, the Radical candidate for Representative in Indiana county. Wonder how the "Republicans" of Indiana like Mr. Gerrymander by this time!

PHILADELPHIA gives from 2,500 to 3,000 Democratic majority; yet, owing to the infamous gerrymander of the Representative districts, 7 Democrats and 11 Radicals are elected members of the Legislature. In other words, 7 members represent 52,000 Democrats, 11 members represent 49,000 Radicals. Is that Republicanism?

THE Radical doctrine: Force Negro Suffrage upon the Southern people, but reject it in Ohio.

—There has been transferred to the Treasurer of the United States a letter received some time ago at the Treasury Department, inclosing United States notes and bonds in the aggregate amounting to $19,854, which were sent without any explanation whatever, from Urbana, Ohio, and which have accordingly, after waiting some time for information as to the sender, been transferred to the "Conscience Fund." The principal amounts inclosed were 7.30 bonds amounting to $16,000, which, with the interest and premium added, and $175 in currency, made up the sum above mentioned. The numbers on all the coupons and all the notes were cut out, leaving no way by which they could be traced to the sender.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—"Godey" for the current month is on our table. It is an excellent number and sustains the well earned reputation of this magazine as an organ of fashion and literature.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—This excellent work is a regular visitor to our sanctum. It is the best of the two dollar monthlies, and our better half esteems it more highly than most of the higher priced magazines. "Peterson" is always fresh and interesting.

A great hub-bub was raised among the bankers in New York and Philadelphia, a few days ago, by the discovery of a large amount of counterfeit United States 7-30 bonds—over three hundred thousand dollars. The national robbers pronounced them counterfeit, but business men declare that they are duplicates issued by the Treasury agents and their confederates, which is the most probable. We have no doubt but there will be millions more after a while.

THE Radicals declared before the elections that the election of Judge Williams was necessary to sustain Congress. Judge Williams being defeated, Congress is condemned and must change its policy.

THE Springfield Republican tells the simple truth, when it says the verdict of the people is against the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

—The quality of California wheat is unequaled. During the growth of the kernel, no rain, not even a dew, moistens it. It can be transported around the globe without injury. In England its use is fast becoming a necessity.—Mixed, half and half, with the damp turgid wheat of the British Isles, it furnishes a bread greatly superior to the heavy unpalatable loaves made of purely English grain.

—An affray occurred between four boys, near Saltersville, N. J., on Saturday evening, in which one of them, named James Spencer, eighteen years of age, shot at the others with a gun loaded with duck shot, wounding two of them seriously. Spencer acted very coolly, and remained at his mother's house until he was captured on Sunday.

—Jeff. Davis, who has been living lately at the Rossin House, Toronto, is now in Saint Catherines, which is nearer the Niagara than the other city. Davis, therefore, appears to be approaching the United States, and is probably going slowly to stand his long deferred trial from treason.

—Lately the workmen employed in excavating a court yard to the Lycee Napoleon, in Paris, came upon a hoard of nearly one thousand Roman coins, all gold, in perfect order and preservation, and belonging to the reigns of Nero, Vitellius, Vespasian, Titus, Trajan, and others, Emperors down to 200 A. D.

—The other day, Mrs. Carr, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, bought a black cat, from which she took three drops of blood to give to a child sick of croup. Her excited neighbors were about to mob the old lady for witchcraft, when the authorities interfered. Twenty witnesses proved in court that the child recovered instantly on taking the sanguinary dose of catnip.

—It would really seem that the ancients did surpass their descendants in the perfection of their arts. A fire and burglar proof safe, which has been subjected to a volcanic eruption, has been discovered among the ruins of Pompeii, its contents uninjured. It very much resembles modern safes.

—The Westchester Jeffersonian says that on Thursday last, a negro was committed to jail in that county, by 'Squire Bambo, of Sadsbury, for an attempt to commit a rape upon a white woman—a school teacher. He waylaid her on her way to school.

—Thad Stevens thanks God for the defeat of the Radical party in this State. He is mad because his party did not come out flat-footed for negro suffrage, so as to be beaten fifty thousand, as in Ohio.

—A tipsy fellow in Dubuque escaped from some friends who were anxious to smash his head, and leaping into the river with a roll of greenbacks tightly grasped in his hand, swam with one arm a distance of one mile—a feat which would have been impossible for a temperate man.

—The Green Bay, Wisconsin, Gazette says William Mitchell, one of the old settlers of the state, having come round the lakes in a canoe, and whose wife was the first white child born in Wisconsin, celebrated his silver wedding the other day.

—John Shively, of Nelson, Wisconsin, went into his field last week and opening a stack of wheat found it wet. He said he would bok at the other, and if that was wet too he would hang himself. It was wet, and he shot the top of his head off.

—In Newark, N.J., the other day, a yonng child at play was so frightened by the mischievous cry of her associate, "Look out for the bull," that she fell, in running with so much force as to cause her death.

The Plains—Threatened Outbreak of the Indians, &c., &c.

ST. LOUIS, October 19. Montana dates of the 8th instant say that the Flathead and other Indian tribes threaten an outbreak. They are already stealing stock and plundering houses, and threaten to kill and drive out all settlers.

Four men were recently killed near Flathead Lake, and all the farm products for miles around have been burned. Two hundred stand of arms have been distributed among the settlers in Platte Valley.

The stage coming west on Saturday was chased by Indians near the Riverside Station, but the stage escaped.

A dispatch to the Republican, dated Medicine Lodge Creek, Oct. 17, says the Indian business progresses finely, and there is good prospect that a treaty will be made and a lasting peace established.

A council will commence on Saturday, October 19, lasting four or five days. Runners had been sent out to notify the outlying bands.

The Pennetticheh Camanches or Honey Eaters, under Silver Brooch, and the Noconees or Wanderers, under their chief, Horseback, reached here on Wednesday. They came from Texas, 300 miles south of the Little Arkansas. Superintendent Murphy yesterday issued a week's provisions to 5,000 Indians. Every Southern Cheyenne lodge will be at this point to-morrow, making from 7,000 to 10,000 Indians present. All the war parties are in, except a fragment consisting of twelve men, who left their party on the Smoky Hill. They had to visit the Northern Cheyennes.

Everywhere in the South the negroes are arming and drilling, with scarcely any interference from the Radical Bureau officials. Their unlawful organizations are under the control and stimulated by Northern Radical emissaries. It is hige time for the Government to take some stringent action in the matter, Either the negroes should be disarmed and prevented from organizing in such manner, or the restrictions which prevent the whitest from organizing and arming for self protection should be removed.

VISIT TO EX-PRESIDENT BUCHANAN.—During the visit of the Philadelphia firemen to Lancaster, Pa., last week, they paid their respects to ex-President Buchanan, at Wheatland. They were cordially received and invited to the hospitalities of his house. Two of the companies presented him with a beautiful badge each, thus making him an honorary member of both. The Philadelphia Mercury says:

A very pleasant interchange, as familiar as though an aged father was talking to his children, took place, in which Mr. Buchanan said of the past, that in looking over the names of the members of Congress when he was first elected to that body, but one remains beside himself, and that person is Mr. Andrew Stewart, of Fayette county. Of the companions of his youthful days, he (Mr. Buchanan) was the only one left, and that now he looks more to the past than the future. "You are the rising generation, gentlemen, and the stability of the country must depend upon you. If you will only exhibit the wisdom of those who lived in the earlier days of the republic, you will have reason to thank God for it."

One of the gentlemen present asked Mr. Buchanan his age, to which the sage replied: "I am in my 77th year. I was 76 years old on the 20th of last April."

Upon parting, Mr. Buchanan shook each visitor by the hand, and expressed a reverential hope that God would bless them all.

THE LABORER IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE.—Now that the good fight has been fought, we feel justified in appealing to our friends who are in arrears to pay up. We are always at much expense during political campaigns, and invariably come out of them with depleted pockets. We owe some debts which must be paid. Will those who owe us respond to this appeal? Come and settle, at any rate. This is the last dun we shall print. Our accounts must be settled, and we shall make out bills for all unsettled accounts and place them in the hands of an officer for collection. We shall do this with great reluctance, but it must be done, if kind words are of no avail.

WOOD! WOOD!—Twenty cords of wood wanted at this office, in payment of subscription. None but good hickory, or chestnut oak will be taken.

"GOD AND MORALITY."—It has been the boast of blaspheming Radicals, that they are the "party of God and Morality." We have always had some doubts as to the existence of any solid foundation for such a boast. At any rate some of the members of the Radical church, occasionally give us good reason to think that they are not all saints. For instance, at the late election, a member of that party, a clerk in Washington city, walked up to the polls in this borough to deposit his ballot. His right to vote at this place was challenged and he was asked, 1. "Is this your place of residence in pursuit of your lawful calling?" To which he answered, "Yes." 2. "Did you ever vote anywhere else?" To which he answered, "No." 3. "Did you not vote in Harrison township in 1860?" To which he answered, "No, I then voted at the Bedford polls—I never voted anywhere else but at the Bedford polls." His vote was then received by the board. Some of those who heard these questions and answers, concluded to investigate the subject which they involved, and accordingly examined the lists of voters for Bedford borough at the several elections in 1860. The name of the person who made the above answers could not be found upon those lists. The lists of voters for Harrison tp., at the elections in 1860, were then examined, and upon those lists appeared the name of the person in question, as a voter at both the October and November elections for that year! Of course this was "all right," for, does not the Gospel according to Beecher tell us, "Permit Republican Government Clerks to come unto you and vote, for of such is the Radical Kingdom of Heaven."

FIRE!—Just as we were about to go to press, a fire broke out in the dwelling house of Mrs. E. L. Anderson, on East Pitt street, which threatened, for a time, to destroy the building. The wind blew pretty freely from the North, and some of the buildings on the South side of the street, seemed, for a while, in danger. As usual, there was no system, nor sense in getting the engines to work, nobody apparently knowing which end of the hose was to be attached to the engine. Owing, however, to the energetic and faithful exertions of the citizens, the fire was finally extinguished, without further damage to the house, than the destruction of the roof. To do justice to the engines, after they did get to work, we must say they did their work well. But some time, or other, something more than "main strength and awkwardness," will be required. Cannot our borough keep up a fire company?

JUBILEE.—The Democrats of Bedford county, are invited to attend a grand Jubilee, to be held at Schellsburg, on Saturday next, 26th inst., in honor of the recent Democratic victories.—There is to be a dinner at 12 o'clock, M. A number of addresses are to be made. Among the speakers announced for the occasion, we notice the names of Col. J. H. Filler, G. H. Spang, O. E. Shannon and J. W. Dickerson, Esqs. A Torchlight Procession will come off in the evening.

GONE.—Our friend, Professor John Ptaszyk, of Harrisburg, who came to our town last week, for the purpose of tuning pianos, requests us to state that he will return again next spring, for he same purpose.

THE "INDIAN SUMMER."—We have a stranger visiting with us, (says the Scranton Register,) one of the old aborigines. And he is welcomed by all classes. The Indians have faded away like the dew of the morning, or like the leaves of mullen before the assiduous attacks of the grasshopper—but the remainder of the powerful tribes of the original owners of this land—the "Indian Summer"—still maketh its annual tour, just the same as if this great broad land was yet the hunting ground of the Indians who once roamed over its broad prairies, climbed the steep mountains, or floated their light canoes on the bosom of the mighty rivers and lakes. It comes to us in its mysterious way to-day, just as it did hundreds of years ago; the same hazy, smoky, atmosphere, warm, idle breath is seen, felt and enjoyed, as in the days when the Indian sallied forth in quest of food for the long winter months, and the squaws gathered the Indian corn. Little children of a new race to-day engage in out-door sports, enticed by the warm and delicious air, and build mud houses, kiss their little playmates, as the little papooses, who kicked up their heels, shot their tiny arrows, or roamed thro' the primeval forests, did when the continent was a vast wilderness, and none but the wild beasts disputed their possession. All, or nearly all, of these children have passed away, and a new people, with new energies, and a higher scale of being, have taken their place and a continent teeming with its millions of population: its towns, hamlets and cities dotting it from the extreme north to the southern limits, with the white sails of our merchantmen dotting every river and lake, where once the canoe only plodded its silent way. And yet, true to the great law which governs myriads of worlds, the seasons roll on with undisturbed accuracy, guided by an Omnipotent hand, and the Indian Summer, with alls its gorgeousness—with the forest tinged with the varied hues of the rainbow, breathing the incense of the oriental climes, comes to us at the appointed time, and with smiles bids a farewell to summer. It is the expiring throe—the last glance—the tear of a dear friend about departing to the dark and dreaded tomb. We welcome its return and shall sigh when it departs.

With the inducements held out to our citizens to aid a noble object, every man, woman, and child should have a share of stock for the benefit of the Riverside Institute (located at Riverside, New Jersey,) established for the gratuitous education of the Orphans of Soldiers and Sailors who fell in the great struggle for the perpetuation of the Union. This meritorious affair is under the control of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, who in order that their benevolent object may be successfully accomplished, have issued five series of fine steel-plate engravings, one of which is given with every share of stock sold, at prices much below their retail value. In connection with this superb inducement, every shareholder is guaranteed a present in the great distribution of presents to the shareholders—one of which is worth $40,000 annother $20,000 annother $10,000, &c. Each shareholder has an equal chance to obtain one of the most valuable presents—all will obtain some present, besides a beautiful engraving.—Read Advertisment.

LYCEUM.—It is proposed to start a debating club, or lyceum, in this town. We hope the project may succeed.

VERY DRY JOKE.—In Easton, Pa., the other evening, just as a performance in the public hall was about to end, two wags put themselves in front of the doorway with an umbrella and waited for the outcoming crowd. It was not raining at all, but when the first persons of the audience had reached the door and seen the warning umbrella, scores of hands were thrust out, coats were buttoned closly, and dresses taken up, while quite a number remained in the hall, refusing to come out on account of the rain. The "sell" was complete.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.
For sale wholesale and retail by
E. M. BRUCE,
18 N. Seventh Street, Philadelphia.
☞ Send for descriptive circular and price list.
The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—Geo. W. Morgan. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—Wm. A. Johnson Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class—Geo. Jardine, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cotttge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. Heintz, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—Bishop Simpson.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—Independent.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—Methodist.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These The World always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of The World for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. The World will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. The World adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, The World will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of The World, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, The World will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the The World prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York Argus has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the Weekly World.
The Semi-Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The Daily World affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
